HIGHLIGHTS

An aerial photograph of a school campus. In the foreground, there is a large, rectangular building with a flat roof and several small, circular skylights. To the left of this building is a parking lot with several cars parked. In the middle ground, there is a large, rectangular building with a flat roof and a long, curved section. To the right of this building is a large, open field. In the background, there are more buildings and a road. The overall scene is a typical school campus from the mid-20th century.

Foreword

With the closing of the 1960-61 school term, we, the members of the graduating class, look back on fond memories.

Included in these memories are our junior and senior class plays. We take such pride in these two events, that we have decided to use "Movie Premiere" as the theme for our 1961 Rally.

During our school years we have gained not only memories but also knowledge which will benefit us greatly in the challenge we must meet in our lifetime.

Dedication

We, the class of 1961, dedicate our yearbook to Mr. Walter Siegfried.

As our senior class advisor, he gave unselfishly of his time and knowledge in our behalf. As director of our junior and senior class plays, he taught us to work side by side with each other in order to attain our goals.

In addition to these extra-curricular activities, he teaches typing, shorthand, and math. He belongs to Phi Delta Kappa and Delta Pi Epsilon, two honorary fraternities. As a teacher of business education, he belongs to the Eastern Business Teachers Association, and is past secretary of the Pennsylvania State Education Association and Lancaster County Business Education Association.

We dedicate this yearbook to Mr. Siegfried to show how much we appreciate his efforts to make our senior year a successful and enjoyable one.

Supervising Principal

Dear Graduates:

For the past twelve years, you have been basically concerned with acquiring the necessary skills and fundamentals for a successful life. Many of you will continue, through institutions of higher learning, to gain additional knowledge about various subjects, while the majority of graduates will discontinue their formal education upon graduation from high school. Whichever avenue you choose to follow, remember that success in it need not be limited to a select few.

How does one become successful? To succeed in life is to be honest with everyone — beginning with yourself.

One has to be honest in realizing his assets and liabilities and in making a decision as to what he can hope to achieve in life; what business or profession can use his talents; what kind of life he desires to lead.

Work hard and intelligently to achieve your goal. Try to make your best efforts even better, but do not spend your energies merely at working hard without setting a goal in which the aims and objectives are well defined.

Train yourself to have insight into problems and analyze the situations based on facts. There is no quick magic formula to a successful life. Like so many things, to be fair and honest requires patience and practice. Here's hoping you all will have a happy and successful life.

Sincerely,
DANIEL B. KNAUER
Supervising Principal

High School Principal

A Message to the Class of 1961:

Whatever the barriers are to a richer and fuller life, the response from you must be one of vision and faith. At all times you must have an adequate reason for your faith and intense desire to be an active participant in assuming your responsibilities in a democratic free society. Such a belief will enable you to develop character, provide leadership, and give service which will help to equip you to live in a world which is in dire need of good citizens.

Since most of your training has been accomplished through the instrumentality of the home, the school, and the church, society has forced you many times to fall back upon these institutions to help you rethink again the concepts and principles taught and applied by your parents and teachers. The example of parents, the character of teachers and supervisors of instruction, their beliefs, their capabilities, their effectiveness, and their loyalty to American Democracy and Christian principles have become a vital living part of you. Once imbued with their spirit, you dare not evade nor neglect it for fear the loss of their principles and examples would darken the vision of a brighter era.

With these thoughts may you be inspired to face the future in service to God and man and may your parents, teachers, and fellow graduates whose associations have meant much to you be the stimulus to provide in your life a happier tomorrow and a blessing to the world.

Class History

In September of 1958 we became sophomores. The officers selected to serve us were Marlin Sweigart, President; Janet Yocom, Vice President; Carole Youndt, Secretary; and Gretta Nies, Treasurer. Under the advisorship of Mr. Gerald Albrecht, we selected our class colors — red and charcoal gray — and ordered our class jackets. During the year we held dances to raise money.

The year 1959-1960 saw the class of '61 together again. The officers elected for our junior year were Paul Grebinger, President; Marlin Sweigart, Vice President; Gretta Nies, Secretary; and Carole Youndt, Treasurer. Mrs. Kilkuskie was our class advisor. On November 21 our class play, "Come Out of the Closet", was presented. During the year we sponsored two dances. One was held on December 24 and the other on March 5. By the close of the term most of us had received our class rings.

The following September we entered our senior year. Our class officers were Paul Grebinger, President; Geraldine Henly, Vice President; Gretta Nies, Secretary; and Carole Youndt, Treasurer. Mr. Walter Siegfried was class advisor for our senior year.

"Not for school, but for life" was chosen as our class motto, and the red rose as our class flower. Funds for our senior activities were provided by selling refreshments at football and basketball games and by sponsoring two dances.

Our trip to Washington took place on March 10. Included in our trip were tours of the F.B.I. Building, Bureau of Printing and Engraving, the White House, the Capitol, the Washington Monument, and the changing of the guards at Arlington National Cemetery. In the evening we dined and saw a floor show in the Lotus Club.

On March 25, we presented our senior class play, "The Diary of Anne Frank".

On April 28, we visited New York City. We toured the United Nations Building, Rockefeller Center, Chinatown, and saw a show in Radio City Music Hall. In the evening we dined at Toffenetti's.

Our senior year came to an end all too soon for our class of ninety-four. On June 2, the Juniors held the prom with the theme of "Stairway to the Stars". Music was provided by Johnny Barker and his orchestra. After the prom we attended "Club Calico" at the Mt. Airy Fire Hall.

Our Baccalaureate Service was held on June 4 in the high school auditorium. The Rev. Donald A. Storm gave the invocation and read the Scriptures. The Rev. John H. Rice spoke about "A Solid Foundation". Bishop Peter Gress offered prayer and pronounced the benediction.

Commencement was held on June 6. The speaker was Dr. Roy McAuley, President-elect of Elizabethtown College.

We, the class of 1961, will always remember and cherish our high school days.
